28th February 2025

Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you ever so much for your understanding this week with our heating challenges. We think (crossed fingers) that everything is up and running as it should be, so things should be back to normal.

It has been lovely to see a bit of sunshine today, although the field is still quite wet, so we were still using just the playground outside. Hopefully it won't be long until the field is dry enough for us to get back on to.

Just a reminder about World Book Day, which we will be celebrating next Friday, 7th March. The children can come dressed as a character from a book or could come in their pyjamas if they would prefer.

We have parents consultations happening for all classes (Year 6 have already had theirs) this coming week. Please make sure you have booked an appointment to pop along to see the teacher and to have a look at your child(ren)'s books.

Next week on Wednesday, Fox Class will be heading out for their Crucial Crew visit, where they will learn lots about the emergency services as well as picking up lots of useful information, which I am sure they will share with us all.

Just to keep you up to date, Mrs Muller is recovering well from her operations and sends her best wishes to you all. We will keep you updated about her return, but I will continue to be here 2 days a week in person during this period. My thanks go to the great staff team here, who have worked so hard to keep things running so smoothly in her absence.

Best wishes
Mrs Kelly Scott
